Dear fellow environmental stewards,

We are all saddened by the pandemic affecting our world. There are many things that continue to keep us going. Hope and preparation both bring confidence. Hope has carried us through similar events, allowing us to use the past as a reflection into what the future may hold for us. We will get through this.

Preparation brings us to action. A wise man once said “Worrying only does one thing, it makes it worse. The best possible way to prepare for tomorrow is to concentrate with all your intelligence, all your enthusiasm, on doing today's work superbly today.”

With confidence, I can tell you that Tinker's Creek Watershed Partners is prepared. We have been blessed with an intelligent and enthusiastic staff and dedicated Board that operate in a sustainable platform, ensuring resiliency in our mission to protect and restore water quality and habitats in the Tinker's Creek watershed.

Thank you,

Josh Herchl
